

Text 1: the darkness

text type: comic/videogames

The darkness is about an antihero called Jackie Estacado, he has recently turned 21, because he had failed a job in the Mafia the Mob Boss had put out a hit on him, he was walking through a building when a bomb was set off, it knocked him into the courtyard of a church, he then walked into a toilet where he asked how to get out he then directed him, the Mafia then tried to crowd him in to the toilet, then all the lights smashed immersing him in darkness, a voice then said "you are nothing but my puppet" and two serpent heads emerged from his sides and he then slaughtered them.

The darkness is a supernatural horror (because Jackie Estacado contained an ancient demon) set in New York city where there are mobsters and corrupt ~~Police~~ <sup>early</sup> Police. ~~Also~~ he has lost everyone close to him ~~recently~~ in his life, at ~~some~~ <sup>2</sup> points in the story he goes into WW2.

Jackie is an antihero because as he slaughters the Mafia he is helping the city.

Text 2 : Ship Breaker

Text type : Book

Ship Breaker is about a boy who takes apart ships for ~~there~~ copper wire, he is getting too old to take apart copper wire, as other kids and he hope for a lucky strike (oil) he then manages to get one but he is left to drown by someone else...

This book is post apocalyptic because something happened due to the fact that there are lots of abandoned boats in the oceans and a city is flooded and most of the characters are illiterate.

The main character is an anti-hero due to the fact that he saves a certain character but then kills him but he was a gang member who terrorised other people.
